ARTIFACT FROM THE FUTURE: SENSORIAL GLASSES

As a tool for hospitals, schools, and malls to prioritizing well-being, the Sensorial Glasses are given to caretakers, shoppers, teachers, and students. These glasses provide visual stimuli that calms the central nervous system during times of heightened stress or anxiety, including those with neurodiversity. The glasses will offer a choice of being directed to the nearest Sensorial Liminal Calming Lounge or of walking the wearer through a mindful moment exercise with their favorite emotional wellness coach.
